1

Site Header

The header has similar look throughout the site, although navigation is highlighted depending on where the user is located within the site. Tabs are considered the main sections of the site, and the top right navigation is typically there for supportive purposes.

2

Media Player

The area of the site where content is displayed whether it be audio, video, or text. A user can share the content with a friend, add to favorites, download a MP3, subscribe to RSS feed if available, and give it rating be clicking on a star . Also any meta data or transcripts are located directly below the video. If the content is primarily text there is link to launch a page for full page reading.

3

Listen to This Week's Show

A user can download/listen to the latest shows MP3, or subscribe to the site's podcast feed to receive updates in the future via their "podcatcher", which is typically iTunes.

4

Spotlight/Announcements/News/Events

This is a section that can be filled with anything that seems important enough you want to call attention to on any given day.

- 1 Sort by Tab
Selecting a tab will sort content accordingly. The page will scroll accordingly, and paging may be an option.
- 2 Search All Programs
Free form search for just programs, not the entire site. The entire site search is in the header.
- 3 Filter By Media Type
Narrow down the type of media by video, text, and audio.
- 4 Select Type of View
This controls whether the content is displayed in tiled or list format, and should be available for all tabs.
- 5 Subscribe to Podcast Feed
- 6 Tiled Content
In tiled viewed a image is used to help indentify the content. Also, icons are used to designate whether there is content for audio, video, or text.

Note: This wireframe doesn't necessarily represent the number of horizontally tiled sermons or shows. It probably makes sense to increase the number.

Speaker Filter Toggle (expanded state is currently displayed)

An “expandable/collapsible widget” to filter results for Speakers (ALL, by Denomination, by Gender, and by Race). This could be “pop-up” or “AJAX modal dialogue” as well. Select the “Configure Results” to toggle settings. The collapsed state and some of it’s possibilities are displayed below.

Configured for All Speakers (default):

1 Selected Tab Highlighted
When selecting a tab it becomes highlighted so it's clear to the user where they are within the site.

2 Page Title
All secondary pages should be clearly marked with a title.

3 Secondary Navigation
Navigation that allows for navigating within a main tab is considered secondary navigation. When selected it becomes highlighted as well to show location as seen below.
